Furry flight

Jason Carter (center), a volunteer board member and treasurer for the Humane Society of the White Mountains, is pictured with his friend "Krista" and Debbie Torbet (right), the shelter manager, and Odie the bloodhound on Sunday, Sept 27, right before a "furry flight." Carter volunteered his time, airplane and expenses to get Odie to a rescue in New Mexico. This is the first "furry flight" that Carter has made for HSWM. "It's friends and volunteers that help keep the Humane Society of the White Mountains going. We are honored to call Jason a friend and volunteer," HSWM Director Deena Pace said.
